

Use Sensory Spelling to Practice for Spelling and Vocab

SIGHT

Close your eyes and “see” the word showing up in your mind, letter by letter. Use your imagination—make the letters be puffy or neon or plaid.

SOUND

Spell the words out loud. Yell. Whisper.

Make up silly songs to help you remember the words.

Pronounce the words phonetically, even if that’s not the way they’re said correctly. Or say them by separate syllables. For example, instead of saying “together” say “to get her.”

TOUCH

Get a cake pan and fill it about an inch deep with sand or rice. Write the words with your fingertip. Shake the pan gently to erase.

TASTE

Have a parent give you a practice test. For every correct spelling, get an M&M or raisin or peanut or chip. (For every incorrect spelling, get tickled!)
